E-learning Feedback from Parents

Comments from BIS Parents

"Thanks for your continuous support BIS! You had shown a professional new experience of e-learning. The schedules posted by the teachers are well organized, detailed; the materials were helpful and easy to follow. The videos posted by some of the teachers on Seesaw or other applications were so motivational for my kids, they showed their pure love and caring towards

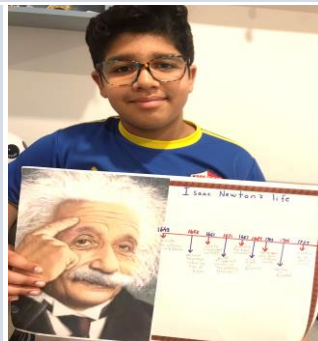

"Thank you for all your efforts in helping the kids learn through e-learning. They are working hard and trying to complete their assignments on time. We hope things will get better and they go back to school soon".

"I am very pleased with the online learning classes. Yousef enjoyed communicating with his teachers and found it easy to understand the materials. It is the best thing to do in these days, since everyone is away from schools and engaged in inappropriate activities. Many thanks to your obvious efforts!"

Science Project through E-learning

A student in grade 5 made a timeline of Isaac Newton's life and achievement. Students need to make something that is shareable with others. This provides a great deal of motivation and relevance in e-learning activities. Good job Hassan!

Google Hangouts

Google Hangouts is a great tool to engage students in collaboration through e-learning process. It is a video conferencing tool which allows students to collaborate at a distance, instant message, video chat and files. You can view the Google Hangouts tutorials in English & Arabic by visiting our website.
