Principal Message

Last week I mentioned that parents were on Campus for an afternoon of in-person Parent/Teacher conferences. I am pleased to report that we had over 360 Parent/Teacher conferences scheduled! Arabic and Islamic teachers were completely booked up and many specialist teachers were also completely booked up!

Next week will be another important week in the life of our school as we virtually welcome an Accreditation Team from the Council of International Schools to campus. They will be connecting via Zoom to engage in a number of scheduled activities, including meetings with staff and students.

While outside during afternoon dismissal I was asked if International Day would be open to the school community. In other words, would parents be allowed on campus? Regrettably, the answer to that is not at this time because we would not be able to meet requirements, such as maintaining physical distancing. We are working on ways to share what students have been doing/learning/ working through pictures/videos using the secure Learning Management System Schoology.

Yours in Learning,

Mr. Sven

International Week

As we work toward a fully re-unified campus, traditional events and activities are looking a little different. This does not mean the learning stops. This time of year BIS traditionally hosts International Day celebrations with a mission of showcasing student learning that centers around increasing awareness, understanding, and appreciation of and for our global community.

Elementary students are preparing for International Week, Dec. 5th to the 9th. This will be an exciting week for students and teachers as they look to finalize and share some of their classroom based learning that focuses on this year's theme "Learning about lesser known countries''.
