Message from the Director:

Dear BIS Community,

Good afternoon, and I hope your return from spring break has been smooth and energizing.

As a follow-up to my earlier message regarding the 2025–2026 school year being my final year as Director of Al-Bayan International School, I'd like to share an update on two important matters: the leadership transition and our guiding statements review process.

Firstly, the job advertisement for the next Director of BIS is now live, with the search being led by International Schools Services (ISS). This is a globally respected organization with a strong reputation for supporting international schools in leadership recruitment.

Although I will be transitioning out of my role at the end of next year, I remain fully committed to the important work ahead. This includes our upcoming CIS visit, the school improvement plan, and other strategic initiatives. I'm incredibly proud of what we've accomplished together, and I remain excited about the future of BIS.

Additionally, I'd like to thank some of our parents, students, the Board, and the PTA for their time and contributions during the recent session to review our school's guiding statements. We are still working on the feedback and will narrow down the options to two or three in each category, which will then be shared with all staff and the broader parent community for further input.

Lastly, we look forward to seeing you at the Parent-Teacher Conferences on April 9 and 10. It's a great opportunity for us to connect and discuss your child's progress.

Thank you again for your continued support and dedication to the future of BIS. I look forward to the meaningful work we will continue to do together in the year ahead.

Warm regards,

Kevin Fullbrook
Director
